Leave Cugnac around 9hr30

There's normally a bit of a rush on the last full day to finish things off. The aim is to leave both gite & studio tidy. Please kindly help me to pre or less tidy up studio (approximately) as well pack your personal materials & artwork from studio.

I help pack your artwork.

Some times we have a little party on the last night.

DAY TIMETABLE

Please read this : <http://www.artists-atelier.com/painting-courses/>

- 9h15 course starts. I like to start the day with a demo or a structured lesson. In group. There's not many students Cugnac, so there's lots of time for one-to-one tuition. Plus more natural demos (it takes up me to 3 hours to paint a normal painting, especially a watercolour. Oils take longer. But a demo doesn't work too well if it goes on too long as students get bored or wish to return to their own painting. Thus speeding up the painting process ... which can lead to sloppy speed. & artificial 'slick' unconsidered painting).

- 1 pm LUNCH . Adam has 60 minutes break.

- 2,30 pm : individual painting & individual tuition, tea & coffee

Day Review

- 5,30pm. teaching stops

- around 18hr Aperitifs & diner

AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

use a french app, not an international one (they often get it wrong) ...

WHAT TO WEAR

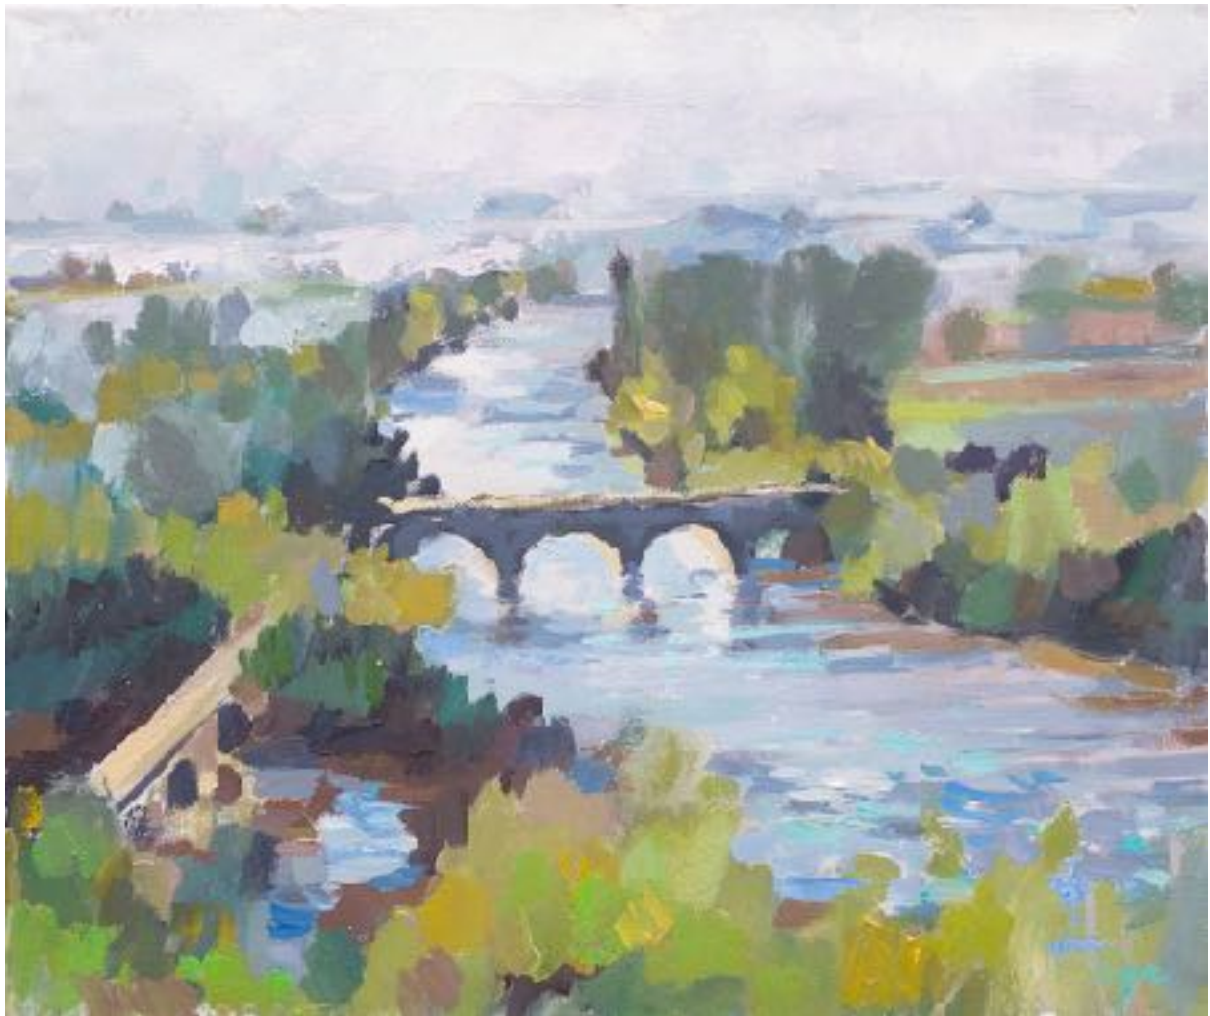

- Sunhat (essential), sun glasses, sun cream.
 - Insect repellent, insect bite cream (there aren't many bugs & mosquitoes about but painting outside all day long does mean that one might meet one or two).
 - peppermint essential oil (works immediately against deer ticks - which are rare).
 - stout shoes
 - socks (you'll be sitting down painting & might get cold feet).
 - a light rain coat
 - fleece (nights can get cold)

7. MISADVENTURE. We accept no responsibility for any loss or damage that you may suffer during the period of your course due to accident, illness, bodily injury, or loss or theft of equipment or belongings. We believe in comfort & safety. It is your responsibility to be adequately fit to paint for a few hours outside. The course requires a minimum level of mobility i.e. that you can carry your art materials across a lawn & climb a flight of stairs, bearing in mind that some terrain may not be level. If you do suffer any bodily misadventure, you will be promptly referred by taxi or ambulance to a medical specialist at either a pharmacy, doctor or hospital (english-speaking medical specialists are fairly wide-spread).

LOST MOBILE PHONES

All mobile telephones have an International Mobile Equipment Identity, or IMEI number, which can be used to block a phone if it is lost or stolen. Individuals should make a note of the IMEI number of their phone and store it separately from the phone.

To find out the IMEI number of a mobile telephone, dial *#06# on the handset. You'll receive a pop-up message with the number."

If a mobile telephone is lost or stolen the provider of the telephone should be contacted immediately and given the IMEI number. The provider can then block the use of the telephone and may be able to trace it. Blocking a telephone means that another SIM card cannot be used in the phone.”
